ADULT CLASSES TO REACH 500 MARK TONIGHT

In spite of the transportation difficulties resulting from the severe storm on Sunday, nineteen new registrations were taken Monday evening at the Community Evening Classes in Adult Education at the Senior High School. The total number of registrations is now 495, and there is little doubt that enough will register tonight to go over 500.

Every instructor in the classes is well trained in his subject, and is

DECEPTION AND EXTRAVAGANCE IS TUCKER'S CHARGE

In Annual Article on Schools and the School Committee.

By Frank W. Tucker

The Arlington School Committee still maintains its traditional extravagance to which, since last year, there has been added a trace of deception. It presented to last year's town meeting a program excessively expensive for depression times and put in the hands of the Town Meeting Members, just before its budget was to be voted on, a pamphlet claiming credit for the reduction of various budget items from prosperity levels. This is good politics. The objection to it comes only in the fact that this pamphlet is misleading. For instance, table #1 is in graph form, showing four rectangular blocks endorsed with what purports to be the total school expenditure for the years 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934. The only possible purpose of such a block diagram is to visualize relative expenses by relative sizes, because it is easier to compare sizes than it is

Warns Against Beauty Racket in Arlington

Believing that a similar racket may be tried at any time in Arlington, W. Ramon Purrier, manager of the Edith Hine Beauty Salon at 691 Massachusetts avenue, has called the attention of the Advocate to the following extract from the current issue of the Reader's Digest:

RICCARDI SAYS LAST WORD IN LOCAL FASCIST CONTROVERSY

Denounces Grano's Stand on Italian Matter. Suggests They Have Any Further Discussion Face to Face.

Four weeks ago a controversy was started in the Advocate by Joseph Grano of Arlington, who took occasion to criticize Mussolini's war with Ethiopia and to question the motives of the newly formed Neutrality League and of School Committee member Michael Fredo, who was

"SMILIN' THROUGH" IS OFFERING OF H. S. DRAMA CLUB

Arlington High School Dramatic Club will present the play, "Smilin' Through", at the town hall on January 31 at 8:00 p. m. The cast includes several experienced members, who have gained recognition in former productions.

The play has a wistful sweetness unlike most plays seen on the stage. Moving along wistfully, it carries a rare vein of human interest, from climax to climax, until the happy ending.

It is the story of a woman who, the victim of a bullet in the hands of one of her lovers on the night of her wedding to the man she loves, promises she will come back to him, "Smilin' Through" the mists that separate the life here and the life hereafter.

A comedy-drama with a smile and a tear, it has all the quaint, whimsical Irish sentiment without sentimentality. It has the romance and fantasy of a powerful love drama and all the glittering humor of a rollicking comedy piece.

Brahms and Wagner Featured in Next Community Concert

By John Gruber

Brahms and Wagner will be the composers featured at the next concert of the Community Symphony Orchestra. The works will be offered music lovers of Arlington on the evening of February 4 when the Orchestra gives its second concert of its third season, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

Comprising over sixty musicians recruited so far as possible from the town, the orchestra affords an opportunity for Arlingtonians to hear the great works of music at a nominal cost. It provides an opportunity for those who have finished high school to continue the playing of orchestral music, and the first hand study of masterpieces.

In keeping with its educational character, the orchestra admits

Atty. Jim Gallagher of Woburn, who defended the three discharged Public Works foremen at the hearing before the Board of Public Works some weeks ago, served notice at that time that he would continue his fight by taking the case to court.

He made good on that promise and Tuesday the three members of the Board of Public Works, its executive clerk and the superintendent of public works were summoned into court. The judge adjourned the hearing at noon after John E. Mitchell, S. Alfred Benson and Edward O'Brien and one or two others had been on the stand. The case is to be continued Friday morning, and it is expected that it will be completed by noon.

THE BIG SNOW WELL HANDLED IN ARLINGTON

Several Fires, Also Many Accidents During Blizzard.

The town's public works department found itself with plenty to do over the week-end when a blizzard visited this section, but judging from the favorable comments heard on all sides, there was plenty to do with. As far as the Advocate has been able to learn, the traveled streets of the town were open at all times, even during the height of the storm Sunday night. There are over one hundred miles of accepted streets in Arlington.

The department increased its regular help by one hundred and fifty men, who were divided into groups of fifty to work on three eight-hour shifts. In addition, the W. P. A. supplied over three hundred workers. These are exclusive of the men who manned the fifteen trucks equipped with plows, the hauling trucks, the four tractors, the two snow loaders, and those who drove the thirty horses.

The Advocate finds that the thirty horses were entirely satisfactory. Several of the biggest seemed to be tireless. They worked for twelve hours without relief, except for short stops for a snack of oats. It was pointed out to the reporter that there is as much differ-

FRIENDS TO GIVE THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS FRI. & SAT.

Two Are Original Works. Business Meeting And Art Exhibit Also Included.

The Friends of the Drama will open the 1936 half of the local theatrical season tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday evenings with the presentation of three one-act plays with a total of fifteen players. In addition, the monthly business meeting will precede the performances on Friday evening, and the art exhibit will occupy much attention both nights. The business meeting and art exhibit were scheduled for Sunday afternoon but were postponed on account of the blizzard.

The casts of the three plays will be made up almost entirely of new and near-new members, and among them, it is reported, are one or two real finds, who will be seen often in the future. There are, however, some old stagers in the list. These include Wallace M. Powers, Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry and Mrs. John O. Matthews.

"Monkey Do", a broad farce-comedy, will be the curtain-raiser. If people laugh immoderately at this, it will be all right with the author, who is Parker Wood, a member of

"Dead of Night" Again Descends on Arlington

The mystery-comedy, "Dead of Night", which played so successfully on the ninth and tenth of this month, was repeated Monday night before a very good audience in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational Church. The same excellent cast gave another thrilling performance. It is reported that the amount raised for the treasury of the Bradshaw Friendly Society will exceed the hundred dollar mark.

LADIES AT SACHEM ANNUAL MEETING FOR FIRST TIME

Big Attendance Despite Saturday Storm. New Officers and Directors Elected. Many Awards Made.

In spite of the storm, 125 Scouters of Sachem Council and their wives battled their several ways to the Arlmont Country Club Saturday afternoon to attend the annual meeting of the council, and the battle to get there was nothing compared to the battle to get home. The snow turned to rain, then sleet with the result that cars started impatiently and wind-shields were heavily coated with ice.

At this year's meeting, for the first time in the history of the council, wives of scouters were present, and to say that they enjoyed the experience is putting it mildly. Under the women's committee, headed by Mrs. Wm. Hart Nichols, the ladies listened to a delightful speaker, Dr. Helen I. D. McGillicuddy, in the afternoon, while the men were holding their business meeting. They attended several group discussions and then

QUESTIONS "HORSE SENSE" OF TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION

Loren W. Marsh of Board of Public Works Answers the Association's Article on Snow Plow Horses.

Taxpayers Aroused By Rumored Jump In Local Tax Rate

Spurred on by the townspeople who are joining the Arlington Taxpayers Association, the Committee on Investigations has redoubled its efforts to the end that expenditures of the town shall be reduced.

With the benefit of the public records of the town, and such unofficial information as can be gleaned from authoritative sources, indications seem to point to a much higher tax rate for the coming year unless drastic efforts are made to keep expenses down to a minimum. The state appropriations indicate a much higher levy on the town

Arlington Tax Payer's Association
Mr. Russell T. Hamlet, Exec. Sec'y.
15 Victoria Road,
Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir:

There appeared in last week's issues of the Arlington News and Arlington Advocate, articles apparently inspired by Arlington Tax Payer's Association. These articles were not signed by you, but I am writing you as I understand that you as Executive Secretary have recently issued other public statements in behalf of the Association. If you are not responsible for the articles above referred to, the following remarks do not apply to you, and I hope that you will endeavor to deliver this letter to the responsible party.

Inasmuch as the subject matter of these articles is critical of the action of the Board of Public Works, I have obtained permission from the other members of the Board to answer these articles, in consideration of the fact that I was one of the original incorporators of the Arlington Tax Payer's Association and its Vice President for nearly three years.

Your recent appeal for membership in the Association carries at bottom of the sheet a statement of the objects of the Association, a part of which only will be referred to in this letter. This refers to Co-operation with local agencies to affect economies in their operation.

I wish to submit for consideration

MRS. MARY E. CAREY

Mrs. Mary E. Carey, mother of Mrs. Ralph L. Thomas of 370 Gray street, passed away at the residence of her daughter last Tuesday. Mrs. Carey had been making her home with her daughter since the death of her husband, Thomas W. Carey, over three years ago. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas, two sons, Thomas W. of Indianapolis, and George E. of Malden; ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. Carey was 79 years old on Monday, the day before her death.

Funeral services were held at the Chapel of J. E. Henderson Co., Everett, Friday, January 17, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Carey was for many years a resident of Everett and her friends there feel her loss greatly. The services were conducted by the Rev. Austin T. Kempton, pastor of the Broadway Baptist Church of Cambridge. Mrs. Mabelle L. Street of Boston was the soloist.

The Saengerknaben To Give Concert in Boston

The Vienna Choir Boys or Wiener Saengerknaben, an ancient organization of boy singers whose average age is twelve years old, will appear in Jordan Hall for two performances in Boston on Friday evening, January 31st, and Saturday morning, February 1st.

Famed throughout the musical society of Europe for their guileless presence and their bell-like, boyish voices, they will present a repertoire that includes arias and choruses of Wagner, Schubert and Mozart as well as national choruses and songs.

The home of the Saengerknaben is Vienna where they dwell in the Wilhelmberg Castle in whose chambers once breathed the nobility of the Hapsburg dynasty. In airy, light-flooded rooms overlooking the distant hills of the Wiener Wald (Vienna Woods of the famed Strauss waltz), the Saengerknaben pursue their musical studies the year round, with academic tutors to provide them with secular education, and with a rich tradition of musical achievement that goes back five hundred years.

It was not until quite recently that the organization conceded to an increasing demand that they appear in public concerts. Their tours were enlarged to include nearly every country in Europe where the unique quality of their performances were unanimously acclaimed.

Miss Dolloff's Engagement To N. Y. Man Announced

Miss Margery McCann daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCann, held a delightful tea at the home of her parents, 51 Academy street, Sunday afternoon in honor of Miss Persis Maye Dolloff, who makes her home with the McCanns.

In spite of the storm, forty guests attended the tea and were escorted to the home in old New England style, arriving at the door on a sled drawn by Harry McCann, who could not compete with the elements in keeping the drive clear.

The tea table was effectively arranged with yellow sweet peas and blue iris and yellow candles in crystal candle sticks.

Mrs. Richard Suter of Lexington, formerly living in the Doe house on Academy street, poured, as did Miss Geneva Starrett. Those assisting in serving were the Misses Dorothy White, Myrtle Johnson, Louise Hackaday, Ruth Dresser, Barbara Dolloff, Anne Austin and Miss McCann.

Miss Barbara Suter, of Lexington, a cousin of Miss Dolloff, presented each guest upon entering, with a silver heart, from which hung a bunch of forget-me-nots and a silver ring. Enclosed within the heart was the engagement announcement of Miss Dolloff to Orrin G. Judd.

Miss Dolloff is a graduate of Jackson College and received her master's degree from the same college. She is a teacher of mathematics at the Junior High School Center. Mr. Judd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin R. Judd of Brooklyn, New York, is a graduate of Colgate and the Harvard Law School, a member of the Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity and is a Phi Beta Kappa man. Mr. Judd is on the Baptist National Board of Foreign Missions and practices law in Brooklyn, New York.

Missing Arlington Dog Featured in Boston Paper

"Blue" has gone A. W. O. L. and "Buddy" Llewellyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Llewellyn of 49 Academy street, is grieving over his long, unexplained absence. A substantial reward for his return has been offered.

"Blue" is a valuable setter whose real name is Riley's Blue Streak and he is known to gunners and bird dog fanciers all over the country. He is about 2 years old and has run in Canada and the South and had just returned from an exhibition run in Georgia a few days before he went astray.

"Buddy" took "Blue" for an airing in the automobile last Saturday and left him in the car while she went into a shop. "Blue" is very much afraid of electric street cars and when one came pounding along while he was alone he jumped through the window and fled.

"Blue" has a black head, ears and neck, tan on his chops with a tan spot over each eye, large black patch extending from his neck down his left side, a black spot at the base of his tail, black markings on his right hand rump and all his white markings are ticked with black. "Blue" is distinctly English and of a strain long bred by the Llewellyn family.

"Buddy" has announced that if "Blue" will return all will be forgiven."

—Miss Marjery McCann returned to Middlebury College, Vermont, on Thursday. She will receive her degree in June.

FASCIST CONTROVERSY

mine, in turn, had to be in somewhat the same vein.

I labelled Mr. Grano as a disgrace to Italy; I mentioned his arguments were grotesque; I told him he knew little about the Neutrality League and less about Atty Michael Fredo. My affirmations, contrary to Mr. Grano, were not intended to be construed as slander. I spoke truthfully, and because pure truth cannot be distorted, I cannot retract any statements, as Mr. Grano would probably wish me to do.

When a person contradicts himself, certainly he is abstract and capricious in his arguments. Consider the following instances:

In his first letter, Mr. Grano states about Atty Fredo: "he is presenting pro-Fascist feeling in America; he and a group presume to dictate the policies of our own administration; his speech over WHDH was to bolster Il Duce's prestige that was falling badly."

In his second letter, Mr. Grano states: "The indictment of attacks on Atty Fredo, or any other person, or persons, is an audacious falsehood." Those are the undeniable statements written by Mr. Grano. It is clear that he believes his own mind and words.

Mr. Grano has difficulty in understanding Fascism and its relation with America. That, apparently, accounts for his repugnance. He cannot reconcile himself to the fact that it is unreasonable, as well as unpatriotic, to attack Fascism. How would he feel if Italy attacked our Constitution?

Because governments differ from one another; because what one nation desires another denounces; because American ideals conflict with foreign ideals; it is our duty—including Mr. Grano's—to respect the diverse governments. To respect does not mean to pledge allegiance. I think the time to attack a foreign government is when that government attempts to implant its political ideals and aspirations on our soil.

I quote another sweeping statement from Mr. Grano: "I certainly feel that if there is any place on earth today where justice is trod upon, crushed and repressed beyond recognition, that place is Fascist Italy." If this were the case, Mussolini would have ceased to dictate long ago. It is better to keep such sour feelings to oneself, for they are nonentities to the multitude, and merely tend to arouse bitterness.

Fascism is altogether different from what Mr. Grano presumes. The following indisputable facts, translated from the original, were written by the eminent historian, Giovanni Gentile: "Mussolini's greatest contribution to the ideas which he represents is the moral strength which emanates from him, his prestige, the fascination which he has for those who are close to him, and for the masses of people who congregate in tens of thousands to listen to him, crowds greater than ever assembled in Italy to listen to an orator. His moral force derives from the absolute faith which he himself has in his own ideas and in the mission which Providence has called upon him to fulfill in his own country, and from the immense humanity of one who is completely indifferent to his own personal interests and is moved solely by a generous concern for those ideals which transcend the individual and promote the honor, glory, security, and prosperity of his native land, and indirectly perpetuate the power and significance of that land in world history." Those are the words of a famous historian.

Let me add that Fascism is the personification of ideas, and incontestably it is the will and power of every Italian citizen. When Mussolini announced his proposal of dictatorship, every Italian approved—from the King to the peasants. This turning point signified the liberation of the country from an insubordination which was beginning to influence the schools and public offices. Mussolini was given plenary powers from the very parliament that revolted. Behind him stands the entire Italian populace, whose wills have fused into one: to grow and prosper in a free world.

Here is an excerpt from a letter written to me by an unbiased Englishman in Italy: "Things are just the same as usual in the present situation. No doubt you would be astonished to see how quiet and serene the whole country is. There is no question of privation, as necessary precautions have been taken to avoid a crisis. The press does more harm than one can say, and I assure you that the versions you may read in some papers and reviews concerning hostilities in Africa and conditions in Italy are false." These are the statements of a historian and of an Englishman. Do these examples sound as though, in Fascist Italy, "justice is trod upon, crushed and repressed beyond recognition"?

I think Mr. Grano was too hasty with his denunciation of Fascism. I am not attempting to censor his ideas or feelings—they are his and he may keep them. But when his remarks are contrary to existing facts, he must be answered. He should always keep in mind that the form of government which appears satisfactory to America may be eschewed by other countries, or vice versa.

Another anxiety of Mr. Grano, which seems to affect his nerves seriously, is the recently organized League for American Neutrality. A large group of citizens—and they come from many stocks—feel that the so-called neutrality (?) bills, now pending in Congress, are decidedly unneutral in character; and as a matter of fact tend to plunge this country directly into war. A few of our illustrious citizens who hold this view are: Prof. Edwin Burchard of Yale University, Mr. Walter Lippman, Mr. Frank H. Simmonds, Congressman Tinkham, Healey, Higgins, Casey, Wigglesworth, and Mrs. Rogers.

Mr. Fredo, who served in the world war and who takes an interest in all public questions, also shares this view; and with other notable Americans he has taken a leading part in the League for American Neutrality. Mr. Grano is at liberty to take an opposite view. No one is concerned with his motives. Neither, however, should he question the motives of others, who are certainly high-minded and public-spirited—such as Mr. Fredo, as demonstrated by a lifetime of public activity. If Mr. Grano is still "puzzled" I shall be pleased to have a discussion with him, if he cares to see me personally.

As much as I dislike to, I must still maintain that Mr. Grano is a disgrace to Italy. To be honorable does not mean he should pledge allegiance to Italy, but it does mean that he should respect the desires of over fifty million Italian citizens who are wholeheartedly with Il Duce, and accept his régime as indispensable.

Again Mr. Grano contradicts his own statements; by saying in one breath he has a warm spot in his heart for Italy; and in the next he defames Fascism. I infer his "warm spot" is for the topography of Italy—admiration for its scenic beauties. All the while I surmised this discussion was on government relations, but it appears one of us is thinking in terms of travel sketches.

Politically speaking, we could never have a warm spot in our hearts for America, if we denounced her form of government; nor for Italy or any foreign country, if we opposed their form of government. I re-state, for Mr. Grano's benefit, that every form of government is satisfactory in the minds of the people under subjection. If public opinion differs, there is a revolt and change of government. Mussolini has been in power for more than thirteen years, and has been respected by over fifty million loyal citizens, whose confidence heightens with the passing of time.

If Mr. Grano is still skeptical, why does he not rush to Italy, and become—shall we say, a liberator? Although he may not realize it, his feelings are shadowy and vacuous in opposition to the feelings of millions. If he wishes to abide by his reflections and ideas, well and good; but he should be reminded that the gregarious, the "flock" as he terms it, determine the ballot.

I shall be pleased to discuss any point with Mr. Grano, if he wishes to speak with me personally. I sincerely hope he is like the naughty child who laughs at his misdeeds, yet deeply feels he is wrong. If so, he will automatically become eligible to join the clan of honorable Italian-Americans, and will have the opportunity of relishing noble thoughts and ideals.

Respectfully,

PAUL P. RICCARDI.

HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS TO MEET NORWOOD SOON

The debating team of Arlington High School will meet for the third consecutive year with the Norwood High School debating team early next month. The subject will be, Resolved: That the several states should enact legislation providing for a system of complete medical service available to all citizens at public expense. Arlington will take the affirmative of the question. A hard battle is expected to be put up by Norwood who has been defeated by Arlington for the past two years. Other debates to be held later in the season are with Brookline High School and Cambridge Latin School. Arlington will also participate in the National Forensic League Tournament, the regional contest of which will be held at Concord.

Officers of Arlington's Debating Club are: Stanley Barron, president; James Carmody, vice-president; Eleanor Finger, secretary, and Marie Husband, librarian.

Sunday Savings

Telephone Calls

All day Sunday you can make out-of-town telephone calls at week-day night rates.

Take advantage, this Sunday, and make—at the new bargain rates—that telephone call to:

- the mother who hasn't heard from you lately
- a son or daughter away from home
- a friend who is ill
- someone who has a birthday or anniversary soon.

THREE MINUTES of family news, of encouragement, of cheer, of congratulation, will be an ideal Sunday afternoon interlude, and will undoubtedly mean as much to you as to the person you call.

Ever since last June, when telephone night rates went into effect at 7 o'clock instead of at the old hour of 8:30, we have been saying "Save after seven."

Now we say, in addition: "Save on Sunday" because, beginning January 19th, regular telephone night rates apply all day Sunday. This means that from 7 o'clock Saturday evening until 4:30 Monday morning, you can make most out-of-town telephone calls at bargain rates.

STATION-TO-STATION CALLS

When you call by number or by "Anytime"

Beginning Sunday, January 19th, and on every Sunday thereafter, the regular night rates (in effect from 7 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.) will also be in effect all day Sunday. This means you can make most station-to-station calls from 7 o'clock Saturday evening until Monday morning, at rates ranging from 12 to 50 percent lower than week-day rates.

PERSON-TO-PERSON CALLS

When you call for a particular party

Beginning Wednesday night, January 15th, and every night thereafter and on Sundays, lower rates are available for the first time on all person-to-person calls which have a day station-to-station rate of more than 15 cents. These rates are in effect during the same hours as the night rates for station-to-station calls—from 7 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. nightly and all day Sunday.

NOTE

When you wish to make a station-to-station call, but you do not know the number, ask information for it. Then give the number to your operator. When you wish to make a person-to-person call, ask for, or dial, "Toll Operator." For further information about telephone rates also call "Toll Operator."

COMMUNITY CLASSES

giving his services to the community so that all may avail themselves of the opportunity of broadening their education and having a greater appreciation of life. One lady was overheard saying the classes were so good she wished she were the Dionne quintuplets so that she might attend several classes at once.

Mr. Wunderly's class in Town Government was especially interesting Monday evening. Next week Selectman Ernest W. Davis will be guest speaker and will address the class during part of the period. Room 13, 8:30 to 9:30 on Monday.

This evening, the lecture in the health course will be a talk on cancer by Dr. E. M. Deland, from 8:30 to 9:30, in Room 22.

Mrs. Ames' class in Nutrition and Marketing, held Thursday evenings in Room 25a, 7:30 to 8:30, although not largely attended, has proved very profitable to those interested in the subject.

The lecture on "The Duties of a Loan Officer in a Commercial Bank", by Ira M. Jones, assistant treasurer of Menotomy Trust Company, was postponed from this Monday to next week Monday, 7:30 to 8:30, Room 32.

There will be no class in Child Training this evening, as the lecture this week was delivered Monday evening by Dr. Helen I. Doherty McGillicuddy on "The Problems of Adolescence." Next Thursday Miss Abigail Elliot will talk on "Current Education." This course meets in Room 21 from 8:30 to 9:30.

"Torts—The Duty We Owe Our Neighbor", will be the topic upon which Mr. Hendrick will speak in the law course, this evening, 7:30 to 8:30, Room 17 (changed from Room 10).

In the Interior Decoration Course, Louis F. Brown of Irving and Casson Company is delivering a series of three lectures on "Period Furniture", the first being Monday evening, the second this evening, and the final one next Monday, Room 34, 8:30 to 9:30.

The Art Appreciation lecture this evening will be on the subject of "Egyptian Art" by Mrs. Laura Gariepy of 66 Appleton street. Monday evening, Rev. Grady D. Feagan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Arlington, will discuss "Art Masterpieces." This course meets from 7:30 to 8:30 in Room 34, and is followed by the Interior Decoration lectures in the same room.

Classes in Block Printing begin next Monday at 7:30 with Mr. M. Donald Plummer as instructor, in Room 29.

Any further information desired about the classes may be obtained from Mrs. George I. Savage, chairman, 68 Westmoreland avenue, Arlington 1414-R, or from members of the committee: Mrs. John N. Loud, 28 Draper avenue; Mrs. Frederick J. Harding, 53 Westmoreland avenue; Mrs. Frederick W. Hill, 15 Oxford street; Miss Alice G. Kendall, 35 Claremont avenue; Mrs. Mortimer H. Wells, 4 Brantwood road; Mrs. Warren A. Seavey, 187 Pleasant street; Mrs. David A. Wilcox, 16 Maple street; Miss Margaret Damon, 7 Pelham terrace; and Mrs. Harold A. Conant, 47 Lincoln street, Lexington. Miss Testa at the Senior High School (Arlington 5800) will also be glad to give information.

Amateur Night At First Baptist Church

There was "a big time in the old town" week when the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church held its Supper and Amateur Night. Forty-eight were seated at the tables, attractively arranged to suit both the outer and inner man. The supper was prepared by Mrs. Melville Rood and Mrs. Fred Douglas. The waitresses were Myrtle Peirce, Laura Jean Rood and Frances Ladd, supervised by Mrs. Charles Mellen and Mrs. Harold Meyer. The guest of honor was the pastor, Mr. Grady Feagan, who offered the blessing and later spoke a few words of greeting to the young people.

For the Amateur Program "Colonel" Murray presided as Master of Ceremonies, with the song much in evidence. The "acts" were as follows:

Trombone Solo, "Rank and File March," William Gilmour, accompanied by Thelma Sorensen; Piano Solo, Brahms' Waltz in A, Thelma Sorensen; Recitation, "Little Orphan Annie," Barbara Miller; Duet, "You're a Life Saver," Marion Douglas and Eleanor Blomberg; Piano Solo, "Sunlight Through the Trees," Elizabeth Gort; Recitation, Dorothy Aisen; Arlington Duet, William Gilmour and Leon Davis; Piano Solo, "Il Trovatore," Letitia Doble; Recitation, Laura Davis; Violin Solo, "Red Sails in the Sunset," Carleton Patriquin; Barnyard Imitations, Carleton Patriquin; Coco (song act), Courtland Edwards; Piano Solo, "Waltz in G flat," Dorothy Mellen; Harmonica Solo, William Patriquin; Novelty Act, Carleton and Warren Patriquin; Recitation, "Discovered," Ruth Miller.

The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mellen and Mrs. Harold Meyer. Carleton Patriquin was decided upon as the winner, and the award will be given to him at the regular meeting on Sunday evening.

A Railroad Meeting was previously held by this society, with Warren Young as Conductor. The schedule was as follows: Praise Station, Lookout Mountain, Fare Point, Refreshment Depot, Inspiration Landing, Power House, Observation Hill, Testimony Tavern, and Parting Signal. A quartette consisting of Marion Douglas, Eleanor Blomberg, Dorothy Mellen, and Letitia Doble sang "Life's Railway." Priscilla Patriquin read a poem entitled "Get a Transfer," and Dorothy Aisen read one entitled "The Ways."

Town Topics

—Many friends and neighbors of Mrs. Louisa S. Russell of 26 Higgins street called on her on Monday of last week, to offer her their congratulations upon her ninety-third birthday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Post of West Hartford, Conn., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son January 3 at St. Francis Hospital. Mrs. Post was Miss Eleanor Crowley of this town.

—Miss Nancy Weale of 40 Oakland avenue entertained six of her little friends at a delightful party last Saturday afternoon. The group first went to the movies at the Capitol Theatre, and then returned for refreshments. Those who went were Barbara Danskin, Dorothy Lansil, Constance Varney, Jane Palmer, John Filler, and Philip Waugaman.

TOWN MEETING

Board of Selectmen for employment of the poor. . . .

The third, Article 4, reads as follows: "To see if the town will make any alterations and repairs of the vault in the office of the Town Clerk in Robbins Memorial Town Hall and make an appropriation therefor."

The last article in the warrant is also of interest to the taxpayers. It reads, "To see if the town will acquire by purchase, eminent domain or otherwise, for the enlargement of its Town Yard or for any other municipal purpose or purposes, all or any portion or portions of the parcel of land with the buildings thereon now numbered 1083 Massachusetts avenue; will make an appropriation for such acquisition; determine in what manner the money shall be raised and expended; or take any action relating thereto."

Article 5 is for a transfer of one Mt. Pleasant Cemetery account to another, the amount being two hundred dollars.

Articles 6, 7 and 8 have to do with changes in the town's by-laws. The first suggests that most of the town officers shall automatically become town meeting members. The second has to do with the calling of town meetings, and the third with requests for roll-call votes.

PAT O'BRIEN GETS THE SPORTSMANSHIP CUP

John "Pat" O'Brien has been judged the winner of the beautiful trophy, awarded by a group of business men interested in general Sportsmanship in this town.

"Pat" was awarded the trophy on the basis of improved performance during the past year, also for outstanding sportsmanship. He played in the backfield in 1934 Arlington High's football team. This past season he played left end, and participated in every game of the A. H. S. grid schedule. He also has played basketball for three years and baseball for four years.

The trophy will be engraved and it is expected "Johnnie" Kelley will be given the honor of presenting the trophy to "Pat" O'Brien at an assembly at a later date.

The trophy has been on display in Golden's Flower Shop for several weeks. Bill Golden, Forrest Sullivan, John Gass and the Alson's Shoe Store are among the business men who presented this trophy for the best improved player on the football team.

Pat is well liked by all and lives at 52 Webster street. He expects to graduate in June of this year.

DUPLICATE CONTRACT

The following are the results of duplicate contract bridge tournament held on Monday afternoon, at 206 Appleton street, under the direction of Mrs. J. Herbert Mead:

Tie for first and second places between Mrs. T. P. Clark and Mrs. Harvey D. Bodwell; Mrs. Wilbur C. Lorenz and Mrs. E. M. Weeden.

Tie for third place between Mrs. Harold B. Wood, playing with Mrs. W. M. Hatch, and Mrs. A. I. Golland playing with Miss T. Cartullo.

Local Track Team Loses to Brookline

The Brookline High School track team defeated a green and inexperienced Arlington team last Friday afternoon by the score of 45 1/2 to 31 at the Arlington board track.

Brookline took six firsts of the nine events on the card. It was Arlington's winning 2nd and 3rd places that really kept them going. Brookline led throughout the meet and their lead was never threatened.

Cooke was outstanding for Arlington, scoring 8 1/2 of his team's points.

The summary: Dash—Won by Redmond (B); 2nd, Livingston (B); 3rd, Guthrie (B). Time, 3 seconds.

Hurdles—Won by Hartman (B); 2nd, Daniels (A); 3rd, Smith (B). Time, 4 seconds.

300-yd. run—Won by Livingston (B); 2nd, Thompson (A); 3rd, Redmond (B). Time, 37.2 seconds.

600-yd. run—Won by Cooke (A); 2nd, Abels (B); 3rd, Cadis (B). Time, 1:23.

1000-yd. run—Won by Cronin (A); 2nd, Cooke (A); 3rd, Able (B).

Relay—Won by Brookline (Redmond, Hartman, J. Abels, Livingston).

Broad Jump—Won by Driscoll (A); 2nd, Sklar (B); 3rd, Leonard (A). Distance, 9 ft. 1 in.

High Jump—Won by Hartman (B); 2nd, Partlow (A); tie for 3rd between Driscoll and Francis (A). Height, 5 ft. 5 in.

Shot Put—Won by Wawhinney (B); 2nd, Horne (A); 3rd, Nagle (B). Distance, 42 ft. 10 1/2 in.

Sports Advocate

Bob O'Reilly, star defense man of the Arlington High School hockey team, pulled a tendon in his arm in last Saturday's game with Stoneham.

Eddie McEwen, center on the basketball team, is one fellow who never gets a break. Eddie stands 5 ft. 9 1/2 in. tall and has to play against opponents that are all well over 6 ft. in height.

The hockey team will play Melrose tomorrow night at the Boston Arena. This promises to be a very lively game.

Watch next week's Advocate for an all-opponents hockey team. This team will be based on the opinions of some of our own team's players.

The basketball game scheduled for last Monday afternoon between Brookline High and Arlington was cancelled. This gave the Arlington team time to prepare for the Fitchburg game tomorrow night.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Leaders' Association met Monday evening for a supper meeting with Mrs. Arthur Dodge of 10 Hillside avenue. Dramatic readings were given by Priscilla Esterbrook, Mrs. Kenneth Russell, the New captain of troop 4, Junior High East, as welcomed into membership. Plans were made for a cookie day, January 31, and for active cooperation with the D. A. R. at their patriotic meeting, February 21 at the Town Hall.

A Retreat for Roman Catholic leaders will be held Sunday, January 26, from nine to four, at the Convent of the Cenicle in Brighton.

Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Mrs. Percy Varney and the Misses Elizabeth Holt, Blanche C. McGowan and Mary Leveroni will attend the nature and handicraft conference at Cedar Hill, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Miss Dorothy White is to be the new captain of troop 2, taking the place of Capt. Marjorie McCann, who returns to Middlebury College this week for her last semester's work. Marjorie, one of our Arlington Golden Eagle Scouts, will be greatly missed, for she has assisted in many ways during her year's absence from college. The Council appreciates her work.

Troop 7 was so large that it had to be divided. The new troop will be known as troop 5, and will meet Fridays at Junior High West under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Holt, a member of the Field and Forest Society. The first project of the troop will be the Pathfinder's badge. This will include many outdoor trips around Arlington.

Sixty-seven scouts went to Cedar Hill for the winter day camping, in charge of Mrs. Arthur North, Misses Blanche C. McGowan, Alice Frost, Mary Leveroni, Marian Douglas and Barbara Holloway. The snow fell so fast on their papers that map-making had to be given up. Games were played instead.

James Kidder is giving a course in electricity to the girls of troop 13.

Mrs. F. P. Orchard has a hostess class with girls of troop 9. They are planning a party for their mothers for Saturday, January 25.

Thrift week is being noted in two of the banks at the Center, by posters, made by Frances Griffin.

Last Wednesday an all day conference was held at the Cantabrigia Club house in Cambridge. The value and methods of publicity work were predominating topics.

Mrs. James Kidder and Mrs. Irving Poole were in charge of two round table discussions. Others attending from Arlington were Mrs. Mortimer Wells, Mrs. Frederick Hill, Mrs. Arthur Dodge, Miss Blanche C. McGowan, and Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes.

The Girl Scout Council met Wednesday at the Brantwood road home of Mrs. Mortimer Wells. Plans for the annual drive were discussed. All the committees are working hard at their appointed tasks.

Troop 3

Troop 3 went to the Police Station during their meeting hour. We saw the officers. The policemen showed us where the cells are, and also where they take fingerprints and photographs. We also saw the paddy-wagon. In the basement is the shooting gallery. They were putting something on the wall to dull the sound of the guns. There is also a place where they make signs, such as "No Parking".

Troop 7

We played games at the beginning of the meeting, and then went into classes. Next week we hope to have the girls working on "Flag and Anthem" passed. We sang songs at the end of the meeting, and closed with good-night circle.

—Mary Dodge.

Troop 8

Everybody was very busy at our last Tuesday Scout meeting. Mrs. Power had a class in knots, while Mrs. Taylor was busy with nature work. Marion Robinson was giving map making instruction. Papers were given out for the health tests. If all goes well, several girls will receive their pins in a few weeks. The troop seemed smaller because a group of girls was at Mrs. Crockett's house for first aid.

Troop 9

We held our hostess class Monday at the home of Mrs. Frederick P. Orchard, who is our very efficient teacher. We had a small party, Mrs. F. P. Hawkes being our guest of honor. In two or three weeks we are going to have a party and invite our parents.

Troop 10

January 20, because of the no-school signals, there were no troop meetings. Six troops meet Mondays.

JUNIOR HIGH WEST NOTES

This noon, the Kiwanis Club members were guests at the school. During the meal, the Junior West orchestra played. Afterward, the band rendered several selections, and a musical program was put on in the way of entertainment. Those taking part were Lucille and Louis Kraft, Charles Davis, Helen Geddes, Mary Dodge, Mary Wylie, Dorothy Anfinants, Patricia Pembroke, Ralph Plummer, Mary Wilson, and Rita Caterino.

The eighth grade group was fortunate this week in seeing the two educational films being shown in each school in town, one on the making of a book, and the other on the Panama Canal.

HEIGHTS BAPTIST NEWS

At a Sunday School meeting of the Heights Baptist Church, Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Ossipoff of Russia were the speakers. After telling something about life in his native country, Mr. Ossipoff played the violin, and his wife sang to her own accompaniment on the harpsichord. Mr. Ossipoff is a student at the Gordon College of Theology and Missions, where the pastor of the church, Rev. R. F. Palmer is an instructor in psychology.

does it, and how he finally defeats himself, makes for one of the most stirring dramas the screen has yet shown. Marian Marsh, Robert Allen, Elisabeth Risdon, Tala Birell and Mrs. Patrick Campbell are featured in the important supporting roles. The film will be shown at the University for 3 days starting Sunday.

"Stars Over Broadway", the companion feature, is a stirring drama with music featuring Pat O'Brien, Jean Muir, Jane Froman, James Melton, Frank McHugh and Frank Fay.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes Leslie Howard in "The Scarlet Pimpernel" and Joan Crawford in "No More Ladies".

With The SELECTMEN

The Selectmen have received a letter from the County Commissioners stating that Arlington's share in the cost of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital will be $22,526.43 for 1936, an increase of $1,612.66 over last year. The principal payment remains the same at $10,000, the interest payment is to be slightly less than last year, but the increase comes in the cost of maintenance, which went from $7,726.27 to $9,763.93.

The Selectmen and the Town Accountant, Clarence Needham, are to attend the banquet of the executive council of the Massachusetts Mayors and Selectmen in honor of Theodore N. Wardell, director of accounts in the State Division of Taxation, next Tuesday at Hotel Lenox.

Town Treasurer Charles A. Hardy announced that he had received eleven bids from banks wishing to loan the town the sum of $400,000 in anticipation of revenue. The lowest was the Shawmut National at 18%, which is .005% higher than the town paid for its last borrowing of $100,000. The Selectmen signed the notes which are due November 6, 1936. The highest bid was .35%.

As the result of a public hearing held a week ago, the Selectmen ordered that no coasting be allowed on Washington street this year. The streets upon which coasting is now permitted, under the supervision of the police department, are the following: Ronald road (from Washington street down), Kilsyth road, Inverness road, Church Hill avenue, Eastern avenue and Florence avenue. The streets are to be closed to coasters after nine in the evening.

Town Topics

A petition was received from the property owners on Edmund road, asking the Joint Board to reconsider its decision not to lay out that street in 1936. The board voted to reconsider. To make way for this street, it was also voted not to lay out Sutherland road.

—Friends of Mrs. Frederick B. Thompson of 37 Brantwood road were glad to greet her at Guest Night of the Arlington Woman's Club. This was her first attendance at the club for several months, because of illness. Mrs. Thompson is a long time member of the Woman's Club and a past officer of the same.

—Richard Bird visited his parents on Windermere avenue last week-end. Mr. Bird has a position as buyer in a large department store in New York.

Innovation Offered At 41st Annual Woman's Club Guest Night

The forty-first annual Guest Night of the Arlington Woman's Club was held at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall Thursday evening, January 16.

The handsome velvet drop was drawn and before it were placed the hall's stately chairs. Palms were at each end of the stage and the low white fence, over which trailed ivy at the end of the apron, completed a dignified setting.

Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, president of the club, gowning in a figured white silk with Hunter's pink sash and carrying a huge bunch of snapdragons in pink shades, was escorted to the platform by the secretary of the club, Miss Caroline D. Higgins, in sage green velvet with wide girldle of gold cloth. Mrs. John H. Kimball, first vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation, dressed in old rose lace and carrying a bunch of snapdragons, was one of the special guests. She was seated at the President's right. Other guests were the Selectmen and their wives who had reservations on the floor.

Within Mrs. Parmenter's graceful speech of welcome was the urge to use the right to vote, because, said she, "There is nothing we may not accomplish if we set about it." The president introduced Mrs. Kimball as an outstanding woman in the state, versed in all subjects pertaining to world betterment.

Mrs. Kimball cited three movements in which women's clubs are interested—peace, crime and youth. She urged a concentration, or concerted action, on some one of these three, saying that with an immense organization with the proper machinery within, results would come with concerted action.

The speaker of the evening was Alton Hall Blackington, whose subject, "Turquoise Trails to New Mexico", was beautifully illustrated by pictures of unusual character. So co-ordinated was lecturer and lantern operator; so easy was the speaker's delivery, that the smoothness of production resulted.

Mr. Blackington wove a story of each portrait and each place visited with graphic exactness. Breathless silence was the tribute paid the speaker many times during the evening. The loud applause at the close, by the large audience, was the evidence of keen enjoyment.

The president, officers of the club, the Selectmen and their wives and Mrs. Lane received in the Hearing room at the close of the lecture. Mr. Carmody and his assistants cleared the hall for dancing during the reception.

The room was attractive with the use of palms and oriental rugs. Louis Haffner's orchestra furnished the dance music, which was pronounced "excellent". Many "old timers" were noted among the twisting throng, particularly when the waltz three-four tempo was recognized. The "Paul Jones" ventured by Mrs. Parmenter was entered into with zest; in fact, the dance idea, the first ever indulged in by the Woman's Club in recent years, emanated from the president, who received the enthusiastic commendation from all as they said "Good Night" on the success of the red letter Guest Night, now history.

Mrs. Fred S. Douglas, chairman of the social committee, reported that 750 were served refreshments just before the dancing. Her committee includes: Mrs. William R. Bars, Mrs. Harold F. Carey, Mrs. Marcus Gray, Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mrs. William S. Patterson, Mrs. George Payonzeck, Mrs. Carl D. Richardson and Mrs. Harold E. Nelson.

The ushers were members of the Prudential Committee and included Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet, in black velvet; Mrs. George W. Bowley, in apricot lace; Mrs. Howard Ensor, in black crepe with dinner jacket of lace; Mrs. Archibald Loveys, in black cut velvet; Mrs. Clifford D. Strout, in white lace; and Mrs. Carl G. Fowler in white satin.

PARTY IS NOW HISTORY

The Sub-Deb Club ushered in the New Year with a formal party at 13 Addison street. Mrs. Chester Davis very kindly lent the use of her home for the occasion, and she was presented with a bouquet of flowers. The guests were: Nancy Baker, Phyllis Cummings, Marion Fillmore, Virginia Holton, Elizabeth Davis, Marion Ingebreten, Betsey Johnson, Caroline Lacey, Patricia Moore, Frances Spong, Mary Tee, Constance Tortorici, Marcia Weatherill, Katherine Whitcomb, Norina Wall, Mildred Zwicker, Charlotte Wunderley, Peggy Wood, Henry Albert, Richard Dooley, Richard Sargent, Ernest Benshimol, Robert Benshimol, Arthur Saul, Stanley Keller, Clifford Birch, Ward Chick, Paul Jones, Thomas Twitcheil, Mortimer Wells, Jr., John Gammons, Richard Carens, Gordon Lewis, Chester Davis, Edward Johnson and Richard Davis.

Dancing, followed by refreshments, constituted a pleasant evening.

The first meeting of the new year took place at the home of Frances Spong. After the business discussion, refreshments were served, and the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be held at the home of Marcia Weatherill.

Note: The editor was undecided whether to hold the above item for a few years and run it in the "twenty-five years ago" column, or to release it now as a matter of fairly recent historic interest. The latter course was decided upon.

—Miss Susan Powers, who is well known in Arlington for her dramatic work and is on the stage in New York, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace M. Powers of Victoria road, last week-end.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Howe of 5 Adams street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Gail Decker Howe, at the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital Tuesday.

Club Activities

Woman's Club

On January 30th, at 2:30 p. m., in Robbins Library Hall, members of the Arlington Woman's Club will hear Miss E. J. Merriam talk on "Boston Then and Now—1635-1935." The Education Committee under the direction of Mrs. Geo. I. Savage, have charge of this meeting. Admission by Club Membership ticket to capacity of hall.

Centre Group

Mrs. Albert W. Hilliard, of 40 Jason street, entertained the "Centre Group" of the Bradshaw Friendly Union on Wednesday of last week. Plans for raising money to complete their quota of the money pledged for the carrying on of the work of the Union were discussed. The hostess, who is the chairman of the group, served a delicious tea from a beautifully appointed table. Miss Elsie M. Parker and Mrs. W. K. Cook were the pourers.

Rebekah Lodge

The birthday of Thomas Wildey, the founder of the Independent order of Odd Fellows, was celebrated Monday evening, at Odd Fellows Hall by Ida F. Butler, Rebekah Lodge. The regular meeting was held after which an entertainment was enjoyed. Mrs. Emma Hovey entertained with violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Pearl Stoney. Mr. Lucius Austin read an article on the life of Thomas Wildey and gave some interesting points of the foundation of the order. Mr. R. W. Frost and Mrs. R. D. Kinney gave a tambourine drill. Mrs. Doris Slade read, Miss Bernice Walkinshaw and Miss Marjorie Freeman entertained with a short sketch and a large group of the Lexington members gave a play, "School Days", under the leadership of Mrs. Stoney. Refreshments were served by the committee which consisted of Miss Marjorie Freeman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Helen Smith and Mrs. Maude Kelley.

Church Societies Federation

The regular mid-winter meeting of the Arlington Federation of Women's Church Societies will be held at the Orthodox Congregational Church on Pleasant street, Friday afternoon, January 31st, at 2:30 p. m. The speaker will be Rev. Newton C. Fetter, Minister of Students in Greater Boston for the Baptist Churches, who will speak on "World Peace." Mrs. Lorimer Higgins will be the soloist and Mrs. Laurence Barber will have charge of the devotions.

CROSBY P. T. A.

The Crosby P. T. A. held its monthly meeting January 15th at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. There was a large attendance, with Mrs. Thomas Semonian, president, presiding, who welcomed all members with a New Year's greeting from the State president.

The speaker Miss Katherine Lyford of Massachusetts Civic League, talked on the subject, "On the Move to Better Movies", which was of interest to all parents.

Mr. Leonard D. Wood of Arlington Conservatory of Music, with his student ensemble, gave an excellent program.

Mrs. John Farrell gave a report on the membership drive, which closed in November. Her co-workers were Mrs. Walter Welch, Mrs. W. B. Marston, Miss Gertrude Toomey, Miss Elsie Pope. All worked diligently to bring this drive to a successful close.

Miss Rilla Hamlin's 5th grade room won the prize for the largest increase of members, the prize being a framed picture—"Boy with the Torn Hat". It was selected by Miss Elsie Seward, the principal, and Mrs. Marion Ford.

The gold star was awarded to Miss Winifred Trask's room for the largest number of parents present at this meeting.

Mrs. L. T. Kewer gave a report on motion picture committee meeting, held under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Mason, the state chairman of Motion Pictures.

Then followed the social hour, with 5th grade mothers as hostesses and Mrs. Joseph Lavery, chairman. They served dainty sandwiches and coffee.

The table decoration was unusual and lovely, made by Mrs. LeRoy Shaw, representing "January", done in silver, blue and black with penquins made from California nut shells.

Another very attractive decoration, made by Mrs. John Proudfoot, was a basket of cedar and milk weed pads.

The next meeting will be "Founder's Night" and will be held February 12th.

Mr. McManus spoke in behalf of the sale of tickets for the President's Ball.

Varia Study Club

The next meeting of the Varia Study Club will take place on Monday evening, January 27, at the home of Mrs. Harold R. Croft, 108 Park avenue. Addresses on Japan and Czechoslovakia will be given by Miss Christine Hooper and Mrs. William Homer, Jr.

Heights Study Club

The Arlington Heights Study Club will hold their annual bridge for the Scholarship Fund in the Park Avenue Parish House at 1:30 on Tuesday, January 28th.

It is a dessert bridge and the money raised is to be used for a high school graduate who is chosen to go on for further study.

The chairman is Mrs. Edward L. Shinn and the committee members, Mrs. J. H. Mead, Mrs. George L. Parker, Mrs. F. B. Parker, Mrs. H. J. Anderson, Mrs. Norval Bacon and Mrs. H. C. Moore.

ST. JOHN'S MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Club of St. John's Church will hold its annual meeting next Monday evening, supper beginning at 6:45. The business meeting will begin at eight o'clock and will include a discussion of plans for the year. There will also be a speaker.

Fortnightly Gets Breath of Roses During Sleet Storm

California and "Tournament of Roses" were brought to Fortnightly Club at a recent meeting. The Art Committee, Mrs. M. E. Curtis, chairman, could not have chosen a more appropriate evening for this delightful subject. With thoughts of the mind, members and their friends who braved the discomfort of a typical New England sleet storm, found the warmth of California's sub-tropical beauty awaiting them.

The pictures shown by Mrs. Elsie Powers Corwin, B. L. I. were exquisite beyond description. Two thousand or more individuals participate in the actual parade and this recent 1936 Tournament was witnessed by a million and a half spectators.

As one journeys throughout the length and breadth of this great state, said the speaker, the glamour and romance of the old Spanish reign makes itself felt in myriad ways. California is very wisely striving to keep this influence alive. We see it in her architecture, we hear it in the names of places, we watch it in her pageant and play, music and art. This "Tournament of Roses" commenced forty-five years ago by a little group of people desirous of showing their joy in the beauty of their land.

In 1932 in honor of the "Olympics" the theme was "Nations and Games". One picture of especial perfection depicted a motor boat in talisman roses and various other beautiful flowers. In 1933 Mary Pickford was Grand Marshal and "Fairytale" was the theme. The slides used were all in color and faithfully portrayed various units from several "Tournaments". About one hundred and fifty pictures were used, illustrating this interesting and illuminating talk. Mrs. Corwin has spent much time in California on various trips and talks easily and convincingly of these scenes and experiences with which she has lived.

The club members voted the program very worth while and regretted that lack of time prevented the rounding out of the story as it had been planned. Mrs. Corwin was formerly a student and member of the faculty at Emerson College of Oratory, Boston.

At the close of the lecture ice cream was served artistically decorated with rose leaves and rosebuds.

"FOLLIES OF 1936"

The pupils of the Laura A. Hallisey Dance Studios are rehearsing daily for their mid-year dance concert, "Follies of 1936", which will be presented Monday evening, January 27, at the Junior High East auditorium. With so many new and enthusiastic pupils, Miss Hallisey has been obliged by popular demand to present this type show, the first of its kind for many seasons. Starring such well-known juveniles as Norma Gallorani, Harold Burbridge, Jean Brogan, Phyllis Hayes, Bob Dolan and Virginia Hermanson, the revue is to be presented as miniature follies with a chorus of twelve smiling young ladies opening the show with a musical comedy song-and-dance.

Stealing some of the hit tunes from the latest musical pictures, Shirley Rimbach does "On a Sunday Afternoon" with an assisting chorus. "Double Trouble" is in store for Phyllis Hayes with a low-down strut and a few of Eleanor Powell's ideas.

Jean Brogan boasts "I'm a Little Big Shot Now" in her own inimitable manner. Who other than that clever toe-tapper, Miss Norma Gallorani, who astounds her audience and holds them spell-bound by her charm, could be "A Little Bit Independent." Among the other notables will be Eleanor Ann Johnson, Patricia Ann Zarella, Lorraine Martin, Grace and Claire McCall, Lois Cibley, Eleanor Repetto, Jean O'Neill, Rita McGrath, Janet Pillsbury, Doris and Barbara Beasley, and Elsie Thalheimer.

Miss Hallisey will accompany every pupil at the piano and will be assisted

INSURE ITS CONTINUANCE

The interest that the President's Birthday Ball has awakened in the work—past, present and future—for Arlington's Infantile Paralysis victims has occasioned some corrections in the account published last week of its beginnings, some 35 years ago. It seems that the home for crippled children mentioned was the Ravenswood, not the Radensborn Home. This was conducted by Mrs. Edward Wheeler, at her house on Broadway. It was an outgrowth of the work of the Good Samaritan Hospital for Crippled Children, and Doctors Edward Bradford, Joel Goldsmith and Charles F. Painter were particularly interested in it as a home for the convalescent children under its care.

The work of the home proved so worthwhile that a fund was raised for its benefit by interested persons in Arlington. Later, the expanding work of the Crippled Hospital made the home no longer necessary, and since the Infantile Paralysis epidemic of 1930, the fund has been used to finance the clinic that is conducted each Wednesday at Visiting Nursing Headquarters. It furnished an orthopedic table and other essential equipment, and has paid the salary of Miss Farley, the special technician sent to us by the Children's Hospital. An average of eight children are treated here weekly.

Those who have known the hardships endured by mothers and children in other days, when children helpless and encumbered by braces had to be taken in the trolley cars to Boston, realize the blessing the clinic is to our community. The fund that has supported it for five years is now exhausted, but the success of the Birthday Ball which is to be given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall on the evening of January 30, will insure its continuance.

THE ONLY THREE

A most ironic "editorial" on the subject of speed appears quite inadvertently in an engagement book issued by the New York Telephone Company. It presents the name of speed record holders in three fields, as follows:

Air—Lieut. Francesco Agello of Italy 440.28 mph.
Water—Garfield A. Wood of United States . . . 124.86 mph.
Land—Sir Malcolm Campbell of England . . . 301.337 mph.

What a blow this must be to the thousands of amateur speeders throughout the country! The only places their names may appear is on the police blotter or the obituary page.

Statistics show, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, that 6,850 persons were killed and 134,000 injured in automobile accidents during 1934 as the direct result of excessive speed. But the statistics cannot show how important a factor speed was in nearly every other cause on the motor accident calendar. Driving cars too fast for conditions played a prominent part in thousands of accidents charged to violating the right of way, cutting in, passing a standing street car, passing on a curve or hill, driving off the road way, and reckless driving.

The smart, twentieth-century attitude on speed is that it is no longer a question of how fast you can go, but of how fast you can stop.

Remember that excessive speed is relatively so insignificant that out of the whole world only three names are given any mention for it.

NEWS BRIEFS

King George V is dead after a four days illness. Long live King Edward VIII. The first bachelor to ascend the throne in 176 years.

Rudyard Kipling passes on in London. One commentator states that he would have been crowned Poet Laureate had he not offended Queen Victoria by calling her "The lonely old queen." His "Recessional," read on the occasion of Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee, will forever live in the hearts of men.

Italy's foreign trade sinks lower and lower under the Sanctions.

Japan withdraws from the naval meeting when parity is scorned.

"The time is coming when we must demand colonies," cries Dr. Paul Gobbels, Minister of Propaganda in Germany. He further states in reference to Germany's persecution of the Jews, as featured in the American press, "They should first see to it that American national heroes don't have to flee from their own country."

Governor Hoffman of New Jersey saved Hauptmann's life last Friday morning by granting a reprieve. The "it" is still in his mind.

The Bonus Bill passes the Senate in face of President's frown. His is the next move.

Senator Nye has received the Cardinal Newman Award for 1935 for his "courage and insight" in exposing "hidden forces that make for war."

This investigation, disclosing acts of former President Wilson, creates an uproar in the Senate.

Robert Frost, poet, has been appointed Charles Eliot Norton Professor of Poetry at Harvard.

Relief costs in the city of New York for 1935 was $185,000,000.

Here and There

If the government of Palestine, for instance, had expended one dollar per minute since the birth of Christ, it would not yet have exceeded one billion dollars. Which may give some idea of the size of that two-styled word, billion.

Uncle Sam is now 31 billion dollars in the hole. He is expending $250 a second, and his income is only $125 for the same period. It doesn't take one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six years to add up to a billion at that rate.

A year ago this time tomorrow the office of the Board of Public Works was being deluged with calls from frantic residents who just had to be plowed out in a hurry. And the wires were hot with vitriolic remarks when it was found that very few could be satisfied.

The better success of the snow removal campaign of 1936 is best indicated by the fact that the day following the storm was hardly more than a normal one as far as the telephone in the Public Works office was concerned. Arlington people were apparently more than satisfied. We are glad to see that the board showed "horse sense."

The Citizens Committee meets tonight for a final decision on the choice of candidates for the election March 2. The nominating committee reported to the board of directors Monday night but unfortunately the Advocate has received contradictory reports of that report.

It is, perforce, only hearsay that we can give the public, but we would be very much surprised if the names of Representative Hollis M. Gott and Assessor Earl A. Ryder are not brought in for Selectman and Town Clerk, respectively.

Next week, when we know whether or not the nominations are accepted and ratified, we shall tell more of Messrs. Gott and Ryder, as well as the other candidates on the slate.

They say that some members of the Citizens Committee are very much exercised because of the fact that John Winner, an avowed candidate for Town Clerk, was not even given a hearing before the nominating committee, even though such was requested two months ago. There should be a good deal of fun at the committee meeting Friday night.

SOPHISTICATED ONLOOKER.

House-Warming Will Be Part of Penny Sale

The January social event for the Alumnae of Marycliff Academy, Arlington Heights, will take the form of a Penny Sale, to be held at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Farrell, 111 Rutledge road, Belmont Hill, next Friday evening, January 24th, at eight o'clock.

As this occasion will also mark the opening of the Farrells' new home, it will be somewhat in the nature of a house-warming, and refreshments will be served to all those who attend.

The Misses Eleanor and Rita Farrell are co-chairmen in charge of this affair, assisted by the following Alumnae: Miss Jeannette Paradis of Somerville; Miss Alma Roche of Arlington; Mrs. Malcolm McBride of Cambridge; Miss Annie Bowman of Arlington; Miss Lillian Day and Miss Brenda Dissell, of Winchester; Miss Charlotte Ruiter of Arlington; Miss Cecile Shanahan of Medford; Mrs. Connors of Cambridge; Miss Elzire Garlepy of Arlington; Miss Mary Costa of Point of Pines; Miss Mary Robb of Arlington; Miss Hildegard Regan, Miss Claudia MacBeth, and Miss Alma Boudreaux of Cambridge and Miss Ruth Quigley of Arlington.

Many lovely and unusual gifts have already been received by the committee, and it is hoped that the proceeds from this Sale will greatly increase the fund for the annual scholarship to be donated to Marycliff Academy by the Alumnae next June.

SHERWOOD EDDY TO SPEAK ON CAPITALISM

Sherwood Eddy, noted author and lecturer, is to speak at the Parish House of the Park Avenue Congregational Church on Wednesday evening, February 12th, on the topic, "Capitalism and Its Rivals."

REPRESENTATIVE

John Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Edwards, of Hillsdale road, has been elected to represent the sophomore-freshmen class in the Student Council at New Hampton School, New Hampton, New Hampshire, for the remainder of the year according to an announcement just made by Headmaster Frederick Smith.

Rags

By EARL A. RYDER

I have a little doggie,
And she bears the name of RAGS;
She's prettiest and cutest
When her little tail she wags.
My mummy thinks she's clever
When she's chewing daddy's hat—
But my daddy fails to see
Any cleverness in that.

But you should see my mummy
When she's boiling with the heat,
Because my little Raggie
Her best pillow tries to eat.
She hunts the house all over
For a strap, a switch, a cane,
To punish little Raggie
With her maddest might and main.

It makes me sit and giggle,
Though I strive to hide my glee—
If I should be caught laughing,
Mums would stretch me on her knee.
But it's fun to see dear mummy
Blowing bubbles at the mouth,
While chasing little Raggie
To the north, east, west and south.

I know my little Raggie
Never means to be real bad,
But whenever she is punished
It makes me very sad;
So I'm training little Raggie,
And teaching her what's right—
What's right to do by day,
And likewise in the night.

It's fun to have a doggie,
But it's sure a lot of work
To discipline and train her—
And of course I will not shrink.
I guess my Ma and Daddy
Often think I'm nuisance, too,
And know it's work to teach me
What is right and wrong to do.

Is it too early to discuss the matter of town officers?

For several evenings our main thoroughfare has resounded to the merry sounds of sleighing parties. The drive through Arlington would seem to be a favorite.

SACHEM ANNUAL MEETING

enjoyed the fine dinner and exercises with their husbands.

At the regular business meeting, President Franklin P. Hawkes, presiding, held at 3 o'clock, the following officers were elected:

President, Dr. Franklin Powers Hawkes; Vice-Presidents, George Bigelow Cheever Rugg and George Mason Dimond; Treasurer, Harold Edmund Hodgdon; Scout Commissioner, Franklin Goodhue Woodward; Executive Board—William H. Eckert, Rev. Leo J. McCann, Thomas L. Sanborn, Homer Sewall, Benjamin Wolk, A. Randall Soderberg, Wm. Hart Nichols, Burleigh L. Pratt.

Then came consideration of reports of committees and officers, objectives for 1936 and the report of the Committee on Program and Resolutions. After this meeting, the regular monthly convention of the executive board was held with Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes in the chair.

The following Chairmen of Committees were approved: Troop Program Committee, Tracy W. Ames; Cub Program Committee, Roger C. Fenn; Personnel Committee, Kelsey G. Reed; Public Relations Committee, Dr. Walter T. Garfield.

The following field and district commissioners were elected:

Field—George W. Greenlaw, for the promotion of Camping; John O. Matthews, Community Commissioner for Arlington; Raymond S. Morrill, for Cub Leadership Training; Ralph F. Perry, Community Commissioner for Watertown; Harold L. Pride, Community Commissioner for Waltham.

District—Arlington Center, Richard W. Howe, King Rugg, Asst.; Arlington Heights, Arthur A. Dodge; Belmont, George K. Saurwein; Concord-Lincoln, Otis M. Whitney; East Arlington, Alfred C. Woodward; Prospect Hill, Wm. E. Hays; Lexington-Bedford, Kelsey

Reed, Robert H. Stands, Asst.; South Side, Wm. A. Graham; Watertown Center, Ralph F. Perry; East Watertown, Erald L. Sawyer.

Then came the discussion groups under the following leaders:

Troop Committee Chairman, Harold L. Pride; Senior Scouting, Everett C. Preston; Enriching the Troop Program, A. Randall Soderberg; Securing Support of Parents, George B. C. Rugg; Troop Courts of Honor, Hollis B. MacDougall; Health and Safety, Dr. Walter T. Garfield; Good Business Management, Russell P. Wise; Cubbing, Roger C. Fenn; Troop Publicity, Dr. F. P. Hawkes; Outdoor Program, Tracy W. Ames.

At 6:30 p. m., the banquet was served. The invocation was given by Rev. Cuthbert Fowler. Dinner songs were conducted in a delightfully lively way by Franklin G. Woodward of Waltham, with Clarence Peterson of Lexington, a natural comedian, at the piano. This was followed by the induction of the Scout Commissioner, Franklin G. Woodward by scouts of Waltham and Waverley in an impressive ceremony.

Resolutions on senior scouting and on the resignation of Dr. L. L. Dudley, former head of the personnel committee, were then adopted. Dr. Dudley has left this district to take up educational work in the western part of the State.

Kelsey G. Reed, chairman of the personnel committee, then presented certificates to the following men: Advanced—Wm. T. Anderson, Jr., George K. Saurwein, George W. Greenlaw, Ronald S. MacKenzie, Lee D. Fuller.

Senior Scouting—Philip W. Alsen, Guy E. Jones, Arthur A. Dodge.

Minimum—John Graham, H. Raymond Durling, Murray L. Hendsbee, Arthur F. Vincent, Clifford K. Noyes, Warren E. Russell, Arthur Christian, Donald P. Prescott, J. Harold Hill.

Specialization—Troop Camping: David J. Jollota, Roger Henry, William A. Graham, William Hart Nichols, Edward M. Bickford, Herbert B. Kellogg, Malcolm Bunker, Gordon Dow, Harry T. Barnes.

No sooner was this over, than an unexpected interruption of the meeting took place. In the far corner of the room there rose a dignified and stately gentleman who demanded to know what it was all about. He declared that he had come to this meeting to learn something about scouting and what he had found was a jolly group of scouts and their wives enjoying a lovely dinner. He demanded of Mr. Hawkes that he be allowed to ask certain questions which he did in a most emphatic manner. These questions were answered in turn by President Hawkes and several chairmen of council committees. In the end, it turned out that this interruption was carefully planned to dramatize the work of the committees.

Following this interruption, the Silver Beaver, emblematic of distinguished service to boyhood, was presented to Dr. Walter T. Garfield by Vice-President Rugg. This honor is awarded by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

In the course of the evening, President Hawkes brought out several interesting facts. He declared that although 36% of the boys of any one age group have joined the Scouts in the past, 60% have shown that they want to join and 74% of the nine-year-old boys in the district want to be Cubs.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Hon. Arthur T. Lyman, State Commissioner of Correction. He spoke of the youthfulness of boys starting in on a criminal career. He said that recently he had asked the heads of the different prisons in Massachusetts to give him a list of the Scouts who were in their institutions. At present, he has received no names. He declared that we need more scouts and a better understanding of scouting. He also spoke of the good effect scouts had on their companions and friends.

The last feature of the program was the Golden Arch of Scouting which was put on by Troop 4 of the Belmont Methodist Episcopal Church under the leadership of Harold B. Dalton.

The committee in charge of the meeting and banquet was composed of Dr. Walter T. Garfield, Chairman; William Hart Nichols of Waltham and Burleigh L. Pratt of Concord.

Dr. Andrews To Speak at Universalist Gathering

Professor Arthur Irving Andrews of Arlington will be one of the speakers on Thursday, January 30, when there will be a Public Meeting of the Women's Universalist Missionary Society of Massachusetts at 10:15 a. m. in the auditorium of the Universalist Church near the Cambridge City Hall on Inman street. Professors Clifford Chesley Hubbard of Wheaton College and Dr. Andrews, formerly of the University of Vermont and of the Charles University, Prague, will take part in the morning program, along with Benjamin G. B. Darke and Dwight H. Allen of the World Peace Foundation, Foreign Policy Association, etc. All of these were connected with the Institute of World Affairs whose first session was held at Ferry Beach last August, and which will continue in the summer of 1936.

No Outside Evangelist At First Baptist This Year

At the morning service at the First Baptist Church this week, Rev. Grady D. Feagan announced that the church committee would not hire an outside evangelist for the meetings in March but that the minister would conduct the evangelistic services. The church has 1000 members and will celebrate its 155th anniversary this year.

A chorus of fifty voices sang two anthems and Leonard Wood, violinist, played Handel's Largo, which the organist, Walter Howe, accompanied with unusual effective artistry. This number was in memory of his grandfather, William E. Wood, gratuitous organist at the Baptist Church for fifty years, deacon and indefatigable worker.

St. John's Guild

The next meeting of St. John's Guild will be on January 27th at 2:30 in the Parish House. This will be the first meeting with the new officers headed by Mrs. Russell Hamlet as President. After a business meeting Mrs. Charles E. Jackson of Wellesley will speak on the United Thank Offering by the women of the Church. Tea will be served with Mrs. Geo. Wheatley, chairman of tea committee, in charge.

On January 31st at 8 p. m., the evening group headed by Miss Florence Irwin, is holding a "Sandwich Demonstration Party". This is to be especially interesting to those ladies who belong to bridge and other clubs. After the talk, coffee will be furnished with the sandwiches prepared, and a social hour will be enjoyed.

Walter Howe, Mus. B. A. A. G. O. Organist and Director
On Friday, January 24th, at 7.45 p. m., will occur the fourth in the series of talks on "Great Christian Pathfinders." This time the leader will be Rev. Frank Swaffield, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Brockton, and former Pastor of the West Somerville Baptist Church. Mr. Swaffield will speak on "Robert Tyndale." Here is one of the most fascinating and colorful lives to be found in all the history of Biblical transmission.

On Sunday morning at the 10:30 hour the pastor will preach on the subject, "When Zion Travelleth." He will deal with the hidden sources of spiritual vitality and effectiveness. Are you dissatisfied with the state of your spiritual life? Would you like to become a super-abounding Christian? There will be thought in this sermon for you.

sales work. In this capacity he was located in the Arlington district during the World War period. In 1916 he was appointed district manager in the Winchester, Woburn, Stoneham territory.

Since his return to Arlington in 1933, he has become affiliated with the local Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club. In Winchester, where he resides at the present time, he is a director of the Cooperative Bank and has served as a member of the Town finance committee. His many local friends will echo the opinion of the Edison Company management that Randall is the ideal choice for the new position.

In the near future he will conduct an open house day at the local Edison shop, featuring practical demonstration of electrical cooking and the many other home electric necessities on display. The local staff will be augmented by members of the Company's domestic science staff and the all-day program will include a number of attractive features of special appeal to the women of Arlington.

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

Then will follow Sophie Kerr's "They're None of Them Perfect", which is an extremely amusing comedy concerning the shortcomings of husbands. There are six women in this play, but to prove that the male of the species is indispensable, a man occupies the last few minutes of the play.

The dramatic piece de resistance is "This Mortal Coil", a very original play by Russell Sharpe. In this are five men who do excellent bits of characterization. This commentator saw a rehearsal this week, and to say that he was much impressed, is putting it inadequately. The three directors are Norman Watt, Mrs. Bradley and Marjorie Phleger, respectively. James T. Snow will be stage manager.

Many bouquets and presents were distributed among the new and old officers.

At the last meeting of the Camp, Major General Lombard, who held the office of commander for four consecutive years, was elected honorary commander for life, and to further this high honor for the good work he has performed during that period, was presented with a leather unholstered arm chair which bears a silver plate with the inscription:

Presented To
General W. E. Lombard
Honorary Commander
By His Comrades of Camp 66

This chair will be placed on the right of the camp commander and will be the seat of honor for the general at each meeting.

It was reported that work on the new quarters in Old Town Hall has been started and it will be only a short time when meetings will be held in their own home.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by members of the auxiliary.

TAXPAYERS AROUSED BY RUMORED JUMP IN LOCAL TAX RATE

which will be reflected in the tax rate, also heavy expenditures in the Welfare Department and for W. P. A. work will add to the rate. Although the Taxpayers Association to date have not been given the department budget requests for the coming year, it is generally understood that these requests are much higher than last year, in most departments.

The association, through its executive secretary and investigating committee, has looked into the matter of increased budgets as far as possible, and if reports are true, most of the departments have asked more money this year than they did in 1935. Indeed, one department, the association understands, has raised its request approximately $100,000, which if true, means that that department will have much explaining to do to satisfy the Taxpayers Association and the Town Meeting members that such an enormous increase is absolutely essential. Unless such increase is so necessary that it cannot be reduced or revised, the Taxpayers Association feel that it should not be allowed, and plans to continue its investigation.

"HORSE SENSE"

tion of the Tax Payer's Association and for the general public, through the same agencies selected by them for their publicity, the following facts.

We are at a loss to know where or how the information regarding your articles on "Horse Sense" came to you. No member of the Board of Public Works, its Secretary or its Superintendent have been approached by you or any member of your organization in regard to this matter. I ask you, is this Cooperation in accordance with the objects of the Association?

I am obliged under the circumstances to deny the truth of every statement, either in whole or in part, of the communication to the Arlington News.

Let me take up each statement as it appears in the article.

(A) Direct quotation: "At a town meeting not so long ago a sale of Horses was authorized. Some were sold and some are on neighboring farms."

(Fact): The town sold three horses and retained five best horses. One of the five has since died. The four remaining horses are stabled in one location within the town and are available at all times for service. When not required for town service the town allows the keeper full use of the horses, in consideration for their board and keep which are furnished without charge to the town. No horses are on neighboring farms.

(B) Direct quotation: "With the coming of winter some 27 equines were imported from outside towns and placed in Arlington Barns."

(Fact): Fourteen horses owned by Mr. Malone of Brighton are in the town stables. Your further statement that they "revel in plenty of grain, hay and care which amply satisfies their 'Horse Sense'" is good news to us, from a Be Kind to Dumb Animals standpoint, for all the grain, hay and care is furnished by their owner, Mr. Malone.

(C) Direct quotation: "Investigation according to the Tax Payer's Association show that the town seems to be obligated for a dollar a day rent per horse or over $800 per month, and the expense of feeding and caring for the horses. While feed and care can only be estimated, consensus of opinion is that the rent will total $1500 per month."

(Fact): The cost of rental of 27 horses and the keep of 4 horses owned by the town amounts to $31.37 per horse, per month or a total of $972.75.

(D) Direct quotation: "It is rumored now that the owners of other animals with 'Horse Sense' want to get in on the idea and board their horses and get paid for it."

(Suggestion): Rumors need not be answered, but we would suggest that they better forget the idea, for it is not a fact, so far as the Town of Arlington is concerned.

General remarks following in the articles regarding the idea of "Preparedness" for storms that "may, might, could or should come" indicate a short memory on the part of the writer regarding the conditions prevailing just a year ago. Most of us can remember that the criticism at that time might have been "Lack of Preparedness" for the worst storm for a generation or more. At the time this letter is being written, every horse available is out in the snow doing his bit. Every piece of equipment for snow removal is at work and on account of strain and accident, equipment from out of town has been obtained where possible. It remains to be seen whether we have sufficient equipment for satisfactory service under the extreme load of this present blizzard.

Now, here is the story which you might have obtained, if you had made inquiry of the Board of Public Works, instead of listening to rumors.

Following usual custom in the early fall, the superintendent made a canvass of available horses for snow removal work. He found that there were only 21 privately owned horses in the town of Arlington. In previous years horses have been rented where ever they could be obtained. Horses have been rented in Belmont, Medford, Lexington and from farmers in remote sections of Arlington, where the long distance from their routes proved a serious detriment to the service, in the necessity for long hauls of the plow before they could enter upon their work. Inasmuch as we could not reasonably expect to have all horse owners in Arlington volunteer the services of their horses for snow work, it was immediately evident that we must get a large number of horses from some source out of town.

To cover all requirements and to have complete information, we sent out invitations to several horse owners and contractors for bids to rent horses to us for this work upon the basis of 30 horses or such number as we might find necessary after obtaining all possible within our own town. Bids for 30 horses varied from $4500 to $6000 for the four month season.

We succeeded in obtaining only 13 horses from local owners. We owned 4 horses. We needed 31 horses to cover the 30 routes. Therefore we contracted with the lowest bidder, Mr. Malone, for the rental of 14 horses for the period up to the end of the fiscal year, upon the basis of rental only, he to feed, keep and care for horses. Inasmuch as we wanted to have these horses immediately available and close at hand when needed, we tendered the use of idle stalls at the Town stables to Mr. Malone, where he keeps and feeds and cares for the horses in anticipation of our calls at any or all times.

This number of horses we consider sufficient assurance for acceptable service when required, and the absolute minimum for the routes as laid out. We make no apologies for this preparedness. The Town wants the work done promptly and it certainly stands to reason that we must arrange for the horses in advance.

Comparison of cost for horse rental in surrounding towns was made by us before taking final action. We found that the plans which we had in hand called for 25% less than the amount paid by the City of Medford in 1934, 25% less than Brookline, 30% less than Winchester, and 20% less than the City of Newton.

Now it appears to us that the query regarding "Horse Sense" might properly be directed to the Arlington Tax Payer's Association and to those who pay for the services of an Executive Secretary, who does not take the first step called for in the Articles of Incorporation calling for "Cooperation with Town Officials".

Had the Tax Payer's Association been interested in getting Facts instead of Publicity, they would have better served their members and the great body of unorganized Tax Payers who are heartily sick of un-intelligent criticism.

Respectfully yours,
TOWN OF ARLINGTON

SCHOOL EXTRAVAGANCE

to compare numbers. The blocks in the graph are of equal width but decrease in length by successive years and we find that the expenditure of $663,077 for 1934 is shown by a block only one-third as long as the block showing the expenditure of $1,716,634 for 1931. Thus a 74% reduction over four years is made to look like a 66% reduction, and by that misleading diagram the School Committee becomes responsible for publishing deceptive information.

Any report showing only Arlington figures has little value. It is only by comparisons of Arlington with other towns and cities that we can tell how well or how poorly we are doing in Arlington. Such a comparison is the purpose of this report.

As the author of three previous reports on the expense rating of the Arlington Schools as shown by the official record, I continue the series for the information of our citizens and taxpayers, particularly those who are Town Meeting Members.

This year, I have additionally been requested to make such a report by the Executive Secretary of the Tax Payers' Association.

It is well worth noting that the three previous reports on this subject, although published in full in both local papers, have so far encountered no serious denial as to facts and conclusions.

The annual report of the Massachusetts Department of Education titled "Public Document No. 2," and issued in December 1935, contains the tabulations of the school returns of all communities in the State for the year ending June 30, 1935. This is the source of my information. It is official.

In making the comparisons shown in this report, I have used as a basis of control, the figures given in the State report for all towns and cities answering the following description as to population, valuation and school membership. There are nineteen such towns and cities including Arlington.

1. Population (1930): 25,000 to 85,000. Average population excluding Arlington, about 49,500. Arlington shows a population of 36,094.

2. Valuation: $35,000,000 to $135,000,000. Average valuation excluding Arlington, about $64,000,000. Arlington shows a valuation of $60,947,000.

3. School Membership: 4,000 to 15,000. Average membership, excluding Arlington 8,168. Arlington's membership is 6,788.

The towns and cities in the control group, listed in order of their population are: Lawrence, Quincy, Brockton, Medford, Haverhill, Everett, Chelsea, Chicopee, Salem, Fitchburg, Waltham, Revere, Beverly and Watertown. Arlington figures are not included in the total of the group in any instance.

Please note that this is not a hand picked list. I have taken all communities that could qualify within the limits set forth and the list is identical with that used in the three previous reports.

The State Report lists all its information under column headings. To them I will refer.

TEACHER LOAD

Columns #6 and #12. These show the so-called teacher load, obtained by dividing the number of pupils by the number of teachers. Column #6 shows total number of full time teachers, including supervisors, principals and teachers. Column #12 shows average membership in schools.

Analysis of the figures shows that Arlington has fewer pupils per teacher than any town in the control group except Fitchburg. Arlington has 25.4 pupils per teacher. The control group has an average of 28.1 pupils per teacher. Conclusion: Arlington has 10.3% more teachers than is justified by the experience of the control group. Arlington is listed as having 267 full time teachers. If adjusted to the average of the control group, the number would be 242. This excess of 25 teachers costs the Town about $45,000 yearly.

SALARIES

Column #17. This column shows Salaries of Supervisors, Principals and Teachers. Analysis of the figures shows that Arlington pays more per pupil for salaries than any town in the control group except Beverly. Arlington pays at the rate of $72. per pupil per year. The group average is $61.50.

Conclusion: Arlington pays 17% more per pupil for salaries than is justified by the experience of the control group.

The average teacher salary in the control group, which I have obtained by dividing #17 of the report by column #6, is about $1725 per annum. In Arlington the annual salary is about $1830 per annum. From this, and from the remarks under the heading of Teacher Load, we find that Arlington employs more teachers per scholar than the average of the control group, and also pays them a higher wage. The resulting excess cost to the Town is over $83,000, for the school year ending last June.

In the near future, I expect to submit comparisons on other phases of the school department work.

members of other orchestras in the Town to its concerts without charge, by special invitation. Music lovers on the welfare list are likewise admitted free. Such profits as remain at the end of the season are devoted to the advancement of local music. Scholarships for musical study have been awarded deserving students in the past, and it is the aim of the orchestra to buy instruments for needy students as well, when money is available.

Besides providing entertainment to the listener, the concerts give an insight into the growth and development of music, each program this year being chosen from music of a well-defined era. The audience is also provided with notes explaining the music to be heard.

Larger audiences are necessary to the continuance of this project which is of value not only to individuals, but which also redounds to the civic credit of Arlington.

SNATCHER

Miss Betty Willard of 20 Kensington road reported to the police Saturday night that a boy had snatched her pocketbook from her hand and had run away before she could stop him. She said that the thief was about fourteen years old. There was a small sum of money in the bag.

UNIVERSALISTS CALL NEW PASTOR AT ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Parish Meeting of the First Universalist Society of Arlington was held in the vestry of the church on Friday, the 17th, and it was unanimously voted to call a new pastor.

The meeting was preceded by a supper which was catered by two divinity students from Crane Theological School at Tufts.

The warrant called for the usual matters of business, and, in addition, included an article relative to filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley last September.

The treasurer, Frank N. Bott, presented a very encouraging statement which showed a balance in all departments.

The various organizations of the church presented reports showing them to be in a very healthy and prosperous condition.

The finance committee, chairman of the finance committee, gave an optimistic report on the Every-Member Canvass, expressing his belief that the people would respond to the demands of the budget in the most generous manner.

The Committee on Pulpit Supply presented its reports, recommending that the Parish call to its pulpit, the Rev. Robert Marshall Rice, now of the Church of the Redeemer at Minneapolis. The report was unanimously accepted and Mr. Rice was forthwith called to the church.

The Pastor-elect is now in his younger thirties, modest in his manner, with a pleasing personality, and as has been shown on both occasions when he occupied the pulpit, recently, possessed of a degree of spirituality which is bound to be reflected in his work. Under his leadership the Church expects its influence in the community will be more strongly felt than ever before.

Mr. Rice was notified by wire at once and his acceptance was received by the Chairman of the Board on Monday of this week.

He expects to preach his first sermon on Sunday, February 9, which date is subject to change on account of weather conditions encountered in the trip east.

The following officers were elected for the year 1936: President, James F. Younle; Clerk, Miss Elizabeth Yerrinton; Treasurer, Frank N. Bott; Collector, L. Brooks Saville; Trustees, James O. Holt, Arthur P. Wyman, Mrs. Marion K. Peirce, Wallace M. Powers, Raymond H. Stearns; Trustee of Funds, Fred A. Carlton; Registrar, Miss Marion E. Mead; Deacons, James F. Younle, Edward W. Goodwin, Ernest W. Davis, Warren H. Guild; Deaconesses, Mrs. E. R. Llewellyn, Mrs. Lester W. Collins; Committee of Religious Education, Mrs. Clarence H. Dempsey, Miss Katherine Yerrinton, Robert Needham.

It was voted to appoint a committee to arrange for a reception to Rev. and Mrs. Rice soon after they reach here.

Temporarily, Rev. and Mrs. Rice will make their home with Rev. Roger Etz, at 12 Rural avenue, Medford.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A GOOD PERMANENT WAVE?

There are three things. Here they are in the order of their importance:

1. The skill, experience and reputation of the operator.
2. The quality of supplies used.
3. The individuality and fashion.

After years of specializing our conviction is that 80% of the success of a permanent depends upon the skill of the operator. When you buy a permanent the price depends upon the skill or lack of skill of the operator.

The eventual effect upon hair of inferior supplies is very marked—sometimes dangerous. The immediate effect is slight. The real effect noticed only after a period of time. We are often asked to "do over" hair that has been waved with inferior supplies. Individuality and Fashion are Edith Hine Fetishes.

ALLEGED ARLINGTON THIEF IS CAUGHT

B. Higgins of 14 Osborn road was arrested by Officers Hourihan and Keefe and taken to headquarters, where the coat and scarf were identified by Mrs. Giroux.

After questioning Higgins, the police recovered a number of articles, and charged Higgins with breaking and entering and larceny. In addition to the Giroux case, Higgins is supposed to have broken into the James Dwyer house at 47 Birch street on December 10 and made an attempt to get into Small's Gift Shop at 212 Massachusetts avenue.

Among the articles taken from the Giroux house, the police recovered a revolver and fifty cartridges, shoes, rubbers (which Higgins was also wearing) and some jewelry.

For the Dwyer family they recovered a Hudson seal coat and several articles of jewelry. It is expected that four or five more breaks will be cleared up before the investigation is finished.

Henry E. Keenan May Run for Assessor

No definite announcement has yet been made by Henry E. Keenan, but it is understood that he may run for the Board of Assessors to oppose Clarence A. Moore, who will run for re-election.

UNIVERSALISTS CALL NEW PASTOR AT ANNUAL MEETING

STORM

ence between one horse and another as there is between men. The horses obtained this year were called brutes for work.

There were several slight fires during the storm, but these were quickly handled by the fire department before much damage was done. The worst fire of the week occurred Tuesday afternoon in the third floor of the vacant house at 13 and 15 Lorne road, owned by Peter Morris of 6 Russell terrace. It was caused by a gasoline wall paper remover, operated by Harry Evans of Cambridge.

There were also several automobile accidents during the storm. The worst was Saturday night at eight o'clock on the Mystic Valley Parkway at Beacon street. Three Somerville girls were taken to Symmes Arlington Hospital in the police ambulance to be treated for various injuries. They were Dorothy Crowell, 13, Florence Crowell, 15, and Winifred Crowell, 16. They were passengers in an automobile operated by Walter Cockrell of Chelmsford, which was in collision with a truck owned and operated by Patrick Quinn of 9 Hobbs court.

The most spectacular accident also occurred Saturday night when a big oil truck went skidding down Kensington park, across Pleasant street and snapped off a hydrant, which belched a huge volume of water before it could be shut off. The driver was wet but otherwise uninjured.

Slight damage was done in the collision Saturday noon between automobiles operated by Henry M. Freyer of 64 Mt. Vernon street and Michael Seretto of 22 Franklin street.

Twelve-year-old Blaine Lappin of 32 Harvard street was injured and was taken to Symmes Hospital after he had coasted into an automobile at the corner of Quincy and Howard street. The machine was operated by Laurin C. Phinney of 37 Newport street.

The most unusual accident, a result of the storm, happened Sunday afternoon when the awning on the drug store at 1323 Massachusetts avenue fell under its own weight of snow and the force of the wind and in doing so broke the plate glass window. During the process William Kenny, 29, of 42 Park avenue, who was standing in front of the store, received a bad cut on his head and was treated by a nearby physician.

Thanks Public for Gifts of Clothing

With the new year well started, it was thought that this is an opportune time for the Welfare Council to express its appreciation for the many hundreds of donations of discarded clothing from Arlington families, the past year.

Through the Welfare Council clothing distribution, many needy families, especially the children, have been provided with seasonable clothing and footwear that otherwise could not be supplied from meagre incomes.

Much in demand at this season, especially right now, are children's overcoats, rubbers and warm stockings. Also boys' knickers and sweaters.

Several requests also for warm bedding such as blankets and quilts have been received from families having inadequate fuel to properly warm their homes.

Those more fortunate having discarded clothing, etc., of this type, should leave it at council headquarters in the Old Town Hall, or call Arlington 6206, and it will be collected.

Snow Shovelers

More than a score of men, after the recent severe storm, were given snow shovelling jobs through telephone requests received at the Council office. The first S O S was received Monday morning at seven-thirty. And anticipating
